After earning my Bachelor's Degree in Youth and Family Ministry from Augsburg College, I began working full-time as a youth and family minister in the Twin Cities, Minnesota. After my husband and I married, we relocated to Albuquerque, New Mexico. A short 6 months later, we started as missionaries in Biloxi, Mississippi, leading teams in the clean-out, rebuilding of homes, and case management of families after Hurricane Katrina. Upon completion of our time there, we returned to Albuquerque, where I served 2 terms as an AmeriCorps Vista Volunteer working as the Clearinghouse Coordinator for Love INC of South Albuquerque. After a few years of working part-time in Children's and Youth Ministry, I decided to stay home full-time to take care of our two girls.

I am currently the Albuquerque Area Coordinator for Service Learning Camps, a non-profit that provides groups of all ages with Service Learning Opportunities. Our motto is: "The Learning is just as important as the Service". I am honored to be the Traveling Teams Coordinator for the NM Ramp Project.
